

6 Ways AccuLynx Can Take Your Company to the Next Level

AccuLynx is all-in-one software for roofing contractors. It's packed with all the features you need to manage your business from an initial lead to a completed job.

Here are 6 ways AccuLynx can take your company to the next level.

1 Ramp up your sales

AccuLynx simplifies the sales process so you can focus your efforts on the right prospects. With real-time access to your activities, correspondence and documents, you can quickly target opportunities that need attention and get more contracts signed.

2 Manage everything in one place

With AccuLynx, everything you need to run your business is centralized and accessible from one system. Easily manage your sales pipeline, estimates, contracts, production schedules and business performance.

3 Cut down on administrative work

AccuLynx saves you time by automating common sales and production tasks, keeping your focus on profits instead of paperwork. With AccuLynx, nothing falls through the cracks.

4 Keep your finger on the pulse

AccuLynx gives you total visibility into your business with a live activity feed of information. You'll always know what your teams are working on and how your projects are progressing.

5 Take your office anywhere

The AccuLynx mobile app for iOS and Android gives you access to the tools you need to conduct business from anywhere. View job activities, capture new leads, create estimates, annotate photos, review contracts, schedule crews and more—on any device.

6 Make data-driven decisions

Take advantage of powerful reporting tools that help you improve performance across the company. Pre-built reports and dashboards measure key activities so you can quickly identify opportunities that can be turned into actionable strategies.
